WHAT IS TK?

Transitional Kindergarten, known as TK, is a bridging program typically meant for children who are born after the Kindergarten cut-off date, September 1 or who aren't quite ready for traditional Kindergarten.

TK has more structure and academics than typical preschool, allowing for more thorough exploration of subjects like math, reading and writing.

However, TK has more freedom and one-on-one teacher-student attention than a child would find in a normal kindergarten classroom.

TK is a great chance for your child to get prepared for Kindergarten while still having the opportunity to be a child.

WFS preschool-6th grade admits students of any race, color, national and ethnic origin to all the rights, privileges, programs, and activities generally accorded or made available to students at the school. We do not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin in administration of any of our educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs, and athletic and other school-administered programs.

WHAT CAN OUR TK PROGRAM OFFER?

- A combined TK-K classroom, with flexibility for social and academic needs of all kindergarten-aged and transition-kindergarten-aged students.
- Small class sizes, approx 2 adults for every 10 children
- Integrated instruction: learning happens through exploration and builds on prior knowledge
- Differentiated instruction: students are taught at their own ability levels, allowing for success and mastery for each child
- Full and half-day options, with before and after-school care available
- Frequent field trips available that relate to classroom studies and allow children experiences for growth and learning
- Opportunities for learning through traditional academic instruction as well as through art, music, dramatic play, physical activity and developmentally-appropriate technology
- Multi-age classrooms allow students to advance or receive extra help while staying with peers.
- Children stay with same teacher for multiple years, allowing families and teachers to develop a working relationship
- Wide variety of parent participation and volunteer opportunities
- Possible entry to 1st grade from TK with parent and teacher approval
